

Dear Parents and Carers,

It has been another great week of learning with children being proud to talk about their fantastic writing outcomes in particular in our pupil of the week assemblies.

We are excited to announce that thanks to Year 2 and Mrs Ashton-Garvey, children have won yet another prize linked to the RHS Campaign for School Gardening which includes a £50 voucher to buy gardening supplies. We have now achieved level 2 and will continue to work towards the level 3 award.

Our School Council members returned to school last Friday after an inspiring and successful day at the Eco Conference. More than eight schools attended to showcase their environmental projects, and we are so incredibly proud of how confidently and enthusiastically our children represented our school.

The children explained how as a school we have been cutting down on our use of bin bags, how often we change our bins as well as using our new compost bins, which are positioned around the school. As a school we aim to save at least 1,700 bin bags each year, which will mean that less rubbish bags are sent to landfill.

This is such an important project our children are leading on and they are already thinking about next year's conference and how we can further develop our ideas.

Have a lovely weekend.

Zoe Cooper

Book Recommendation

This week's book recommendation comes from Hugu in Year 5

Book: Point Blanc (Alex Rider) by Anthony Horowitz

"I love this series of books because they are packed with action and MI6 spy adventures. In this second book of the series, Alex Rider and his friends help to overcome the villains, ending the baddies reign".
