Dear Parents and Carers,

What another fantastic week we have had. There is a real sense of excitement around school at this time of year as we enjoy the many end of year events and activities that bring our community together.

On Tuesday, we welcomed parents into the school to come and hear the amazing sound of our Year 5 brass band. They have worked so hard all year on learning either the trombone or the trumpet, alongside Ben from Bold As.

To continue the music celebrations, we also enjoyed the sounds of our very own Rocksteady Band. This was a wonderful opportunity for children to showcase the musical skills and confidence they have developed throughout the year.

Learning to play an instrument, whether through Rocksteady or performances such as the Year 5 brass concert, nurtures creativity, perseverance and teamwork, while also enhancing concentration, listening skills and self-confidence. It was a joy to see our young musicians perform with such enthusiasm and pride, celebrating all they have achieved together.

Children across the school enjoyed a range of exciting opportunities to explore our local community. As part of their geography learning, Year 1 took a walk to the beach to discover more about their local environment. Meanwhile, Year 5 visited three local churches as part of their RE learning, giving them the opportunity to deepen their understanding through first-hand experiences.

We are very much looking forward to our Sports Day next week! Please keep an eye out for further information, which will be sent to you early next week.

Have a lovely weekend.

Book Recommendation

This week's book recommendation comes from Shannon and Noah in Year 3

Book: Blue John by Bertie Doherty.
"This book is magical and dreamy. It is about a boy who is made out of crystals and lives in a cave and loves the light. We would recommend it because it is entertaining and emotional."
